

Biosafety Training Institute (BTI)

Course Pricing

Course	Classification	Price
Professional Course in Biorisk Management (online) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> International course Preparation for IFBA's Professional Certification (PC) in Biorisk Management exam 	Delegate fee	£1,200
	Higher Education (HE) discount (20%)	£960
	Group Discount	May be available
	National income band – bursary contribution rates*	See notes below

* National income band – bursary contribution rates:

This banding acknowledges that the BTI has a primary objective of helping to spread biosafety competence worldwide, taking into account the economic status of individuals and their countries of origin. BTI is therefore open to making a substantial bursary contribution to candidates from Low to Mid Income nations. The exact level of this bursary contribution will be determined by factors such as:

- Candidate is nominated by institution, company etc. or is self-nominated
- Economic grouping (national income band) of country of origin of candidate
- Employer sector, if nominated by employer

Such candidates are cordially invited to make contact with the BTI office to discuss potential fee levels (via course administrator email bti@ed.ac.uk)